TOP ROW:

Holland Middleton (Holley) Bass and his brother, William Riley Bass, married sisters, Christian Ward and Nancy Jane Ward. The families lived on adjoining farms and had a very close relationship. Two sons from each family served with honor in World War I. Grandsons and great-grandsons have served and are serving in each succeeding war.

Both families were highly respected and have served their communities, countries, and states in many capacities.

The following records were obtained from families, census reports, national archives, recorded wills, land deeds, Bible records of births and deaths, and markers in cemeteries.

Genola Bass Spence

Wilson Bass, father of Bennett Bridges and William Riley Bass, and grandfather of Holland M. and William Riley Bass, came to South Carolina, moving to Georgia and later to Covington County, Alabama. Census records of 1830 and 1840 show Wilson Bass was born about 1780. There were three children: Bennett, Riley and Nancy. Census records show Bennett Bass was born in Georgia in 1808, and Riley in Alabama in Covington County in 1824. Their sister, Nancy, was younger. The name of Wilson Bass' wife is not known.

Mr. Bass moved to Montzuma, a small town between Andalusia and River Falls. This town is no longer in existence. He later moved to a farm near the Carolina Community, south of Andalusia, Alabama. The farm is on the right of the Brewton-Andalusia highway. At his death, before 1850, he was buried under a mulberry tree near the home, as was the custom in those days. There was not a marker and the grave is now part of a farm.

None of the Bass family ever owned slaves.

William Riley Bass married Mary Straughn. He was killed in the Civil War.

Mr. Bass farmed and raised sheep, cattle, and hogs.

John Ward, great-grandfather of Christian and Nancy Ward Bass, moved from Virginia to Charleston, South Carolina. Records from Archives Department, Columbia, South Carolina, show that John Ward's will was recorded May 11, 1720. His children were: John, Benjamin, Joshia, and Daniel.

The family raised cattle for a livelihood. The cattle were driven from Carolina to Mobile, Alabama and New Orleans, Louisiana for sale, by way of Columbus, Georgia. Here they crossed the Chattahoochee River at a ford and stopped for the night. It was here John met Nancy Knight, his future wife. Her mother was a Creek Indian and her father operated a blacksmith shop near the river crossing.

One day while the Ward boys were splitting rails to build fence, John decided he was tired of splitting rails, left his axe in the woods, and went to Columbus, Georgia. He and Nancy Knight were married. They went back to Charleston, South Carolina to live and it was there that Elijah was born in 1779. Children of John and Nancy were: Elijah, Moses, Patrick, Tarelton, John, Benjamin, Henry, and Nancy.

The family moved to Bon Secour, Alabama, near Mobile.

Elijah married Sarah Cochran, August 3, 1816 at Grove Hill, Clark County, Alabama. She was the daughter of a state senator and a travelling Baptist preacher, also a man of considerable wealth in cattle and land, as shown by his will made August 27, 1818.

Elijah and Sarah lived in the fork of the Tensaw and Alabama Rivers, raising cattle for a livelihood. There were twelve children: Cabrella, Jack, Janice, William, John, Andrew J., Louise, Sarah, Celesteen, Douvak, Mary, and Harriet.

Because the children had an Indian heritage, they were not permitted to attend schools in the area. Some of Elijah's brothers moved to Mississippi, but Elijah, accompanied by Sarah's brother, Charles Cochran, moved his family and stock to Florida. They settled on the east bank of the Blackwater River at Milton, which at that time was in Walton County. The area continues to be known as Wards Basin. The family later moved near Dorcas east of Crestview.

Elijah served in the U. S. Army, enlisting from Yellow River, Florida, May 13, 1832 in the war between the United States and Creek Indians. He received his discharge January 13, 1838. At his death he was buried near Crestview in a cemetery which is not in existence at this time.

William Ward enlisted in the U. S. Army, July 3, 1836, as a private in Indian war.

William married Catherine (Katie) Campbell of Laurel Hill, Florida. They lived south of Laurel Hill.

... of Laurel Hill, the children going to school at Almarante.
Catherine was the daughter of Peter Campbell and Christian McCaskill, who had 7 children: Margaret, Catherine, Alexandra, Janie, Daniel, Sallie, and Allen.

Peter's parents were Daniel C. Campbell and Effie McLean. See below.

This was found in the trunk of Mr. Allen (Bud) Campbell, brother of Catherine (Katie), after his death.

Copied from Pensacola Gazette of December 10, 1842.

Daniel C. Campbell, born on Isle of Syke, Scotland in the year of 1725. In 1749 he married Miss Effie McLean and they moved to America in 1752 with their family.

Mr. Campbell died on his birthday, December 12, 1843. His wife died the day before he passed on. Both were buried at the same hour in the Sam Clary Cemetery near Magnolia Settlement in Walton County, Florida. They lived together 94 years.

Until the beginning of the Civil War, William and his family were prosperous cattle owners. All their stock was taken by the Army or renegades. After the war was over, they owned only one old cow.

During the war the family moved to Rocky Bayou, just south of the present bridge across the bayou. There they farmed, fished, hauled cordwood and freight by boat in order to exist until the end of the war.

William Ward married Catherine (Katie) Campbell.

William Ward was born September 2, 1812; died April 18, 1887.
